

Pathology Quiz

1. What does the word 'pathology' mean?
2. What percentage of patients have some kind of pathology diagnostic tests?
3. What are the main disciplines of pathology?
4. What does the 'cyto' part of the word 'cytopathology' mean?
5. What is the most used equipment in histopathology:
 - a) By the medical staff (histopathologists)?
 - b) By the scientific staff?
6. What laboratory data suggest inflammation?
7. Name 3 types of microbiological culture media are used for growing bacteria?
8. What types of pathogenic microorganisms (bugs) are examined by microbiologists?
9. What is the smallest amount of blood can be used for routine clinical chemistry examinations?
10. What type of screening programs are running in pathology?
11. What does the 'cut-up' mean in histopathology?
12. What sort of cell has "gone wrong" in multiple myeloma?
13. What are main parts of the clinical chemistry laboratory?
14. Roughly how many samples are processed in the clinical pathology per day?
15. How many blood units are transfused every year at the NNUH?

16. How many microbiology specimens are processed at the NNUH every year?
17. What is sort of organism (bug) is Clostridium difficile - virus, bacterium or fungus?
18. What do the microbiologists examine for the general public? Give 3 different subjects!
19. What are the main health sciences?
20. What types of blood can be given to a person who has type A blood?
21. How many different tests are available at the Automation Section of Clinical Chemistry?

Feedback

Please complete this section, if you would like to, and then give your name and address. Your comments will not affect your chances in the draw!

For the following questions, please indicate Yes or No
Has the Pathology Week event been helpful in your understanding of what pathology is?	Yes	No
Do you think that pathology more important in patient care than you used to imagine?	Yes	No
Did you attend any lectures?	Yes	No
Were the talks easy to understand?	Yes	No
Were the posters easy to read and understand?	Yes	No
Were the staff helpful?	Yes	No
Would you come to similar events in future?	Yes	No
Are you a member of Trust staff?	Yes	No
Are you a member of the public?	Yes	No
As a member of the public, are you also a member of the Trust?	Yes	No
Please feel free to write any comments here:
Do you have any suggestions for next years event?

Please complete the following details (name with either the address or the phone number), if you would like your name to be included in the prize draw.

Your name:

Your address:

Your telephone number:

Thank you for your time and attention